THREE IMPORTANT LESSON TO BE GOOD PROFESSIONAL WEB DESIGNER

STAY UP TO DATE WITH TECHNOLOGIES AND TRENDS

- With web design, the generally accepted practices change frequently. Browser architecture and support is updated almost daily. You need to be adapting to this change.
- HTML5 and CSS3 are fantastic developments and are being supported by an increasing number of browsers and devices.
- Mobile development and responsive design are some of the most talked about design trends in the last 6 months.
- If everybody else is talking and learning about these developments in your industry, shouldn't you be too?

DIFFERENTIATE YOURSELF FROM THE CROWD

- This one thing you do differently/better than other web designers is called your Unique Selling Proposition
- Example:
 - Having the lowest price
 - Having the highest quality product
 - Excelling in areas where others fail (e.g. customer service)
 - Targeting a specific niche exclusively
 - Offering anything unique
- To sum up: Establish your business' USP. Make sure your clients know what that USP is. Profit.

UNDER-PROMISE AND OVER-DELIVER

- It is human nature to want to tell your friends and relatives about something truly great.
- If you are over-delivering on your clients' expectations, you can be sure that somebody is going to hear about the amazing customer service they received or the top quality product they got for a really low price, or the free logos you designed for them along with their websites.
